

book of the week

Katherine Vaz
Above the Salt
NOVEL

As children on the Portuguese island of Madeira in the 1850s, John and Mary form a magnetic bond. Religious persecution forces them to flee, but they meet again as immigrants in Illinois, and their paths continue to cross and diverge through America's convulsive history, from the Civil War to the Jazz Age. Will their love prevail? Vaz explores the complexities of duty, passion and sacrifice in an engrossing narrative that celebrates life's abiding beauty.

The Best New Books

Love against the odds, music to live by, and an indomitable student's journey

Edited by KIM HUBBARD

Jeff Tweedy
World Within a Song
NONFICTION

The Wilco frontman delves into his inspiring relationship with music through 50 songs (from "Gloria" to "Free Bird") and adds heart-wrenching memories of childhood friendship, gun-wielding tour bus drivers and more. If life's a movie, Tweedy's has a pretty great soundtrack.

Stephanie Land
Class
NONFICTION

In this sequel to the mega-selling Maid, single mom Land struggles to fulfill her lifelong dream of getting an MFA to build a writing career, even as she battles poverty and—worse—people's judgment that she's being self-indulgent and impractical. Raw and inspiring.

New in Style & Fashion

Hal Rubenstein
Dressing the Part

Ever longed for Mary Richards's beret, Krystle Carrington's shoulder pads or Carrie Bradshaw's... everything? This colorful look at TV's most stylish shows is for you.

Sunita Kumar Nair
CBK

A quarter century after her death, Carolyn Bessette Kennedy remains a style influencer. Designers, photographers and fashion insiders look back.

Kate Spade
New York It's So You

Playfully illustrated tips for building a practical, stylish wardrobe that reflects who you are—not who the world thinks you should be.

INSERTS, FROM LEFT: BEOWULF/SHEEHAN; ERICA PETERMAN